

NEWSLETTER

Saving animals in need together

Working collaboratively to increase efficiency, effectiveness and to save more lives

SavingLife and American Association of Pet Parents

When we think about all of the pieces that must come together to help animals in need, it is far too much for one organization to tackle. To that end, SavingLife Inc and our associate nonprofit American Association of Pet Parents work hand in hand to give pets the best change to remain healthy, happy and in their home.

SavingLife works directly with humane societies, animal control and rescues to capitalize on our shared mission of saving lives by offering collaborative solutions, which when included in an agencies workflow, save tremendous time, money and most importantly the lives of thousands of animals.

AAPP is on the other side of the coin helping pet parents keep their pets in their homes. Whether it is with advice from trusted professionals, pet resources or money saving discounts, AAPP was founded to give families a trusted source of pet related information.

Additionally, AAPP is the interface with pet parents for registering their pet's microchips. The data is securely stored in the SAINT platform, the life saving software provided by SavingLife, and is always free for pet parents to keep up to date.

It is through this unique partnership that we can help

- Keep pets out of the shelter system (AAPP)
- Those that enter the system find their owners/adopters more quickly (SL)
- Ensure adopted or RTO pets are happy, healthy and stay in their homes (AAPP)

